JUAN SOLOMON PARK TEMPORARILY CLOSED DURING CONSTRUCTION

INDIANAPOLIS –(June 16, 2010) Indy Parks and Recreation and the Department of Public Works (DPW) will close Juan Solomon Park June 21 for one week as construction continues for The Crooked Creek Area Sewer Improvements (Belmont North Relief Interceptor) project. As one the largest initiatives to improve public infrastructure, this project creates additional sewer capacity to accommodate population growth and allows thousands of homes to connect to the City's the sanitary sewer system. As part of the Crooked Creek Project, a new community center will be built in Juan Solomon Park along with public restrooms and a water fountain. The plan will also incorporate many "green" aspects in the park that will aid in reducing storm water runoff including a green roof on the lift station, rain gardens, porous parking lot and new playground with rubberized play surface.

WHAT: Juan Solomon Park temporarily closed during construction

WHERE: Juan Solomon Park, 6100 Grandview Drive

WHEN: June 21 for one week
